CHAIR PERSON SPEAKS

Greetings!

By God's grace, I am happy to express that our East Point Group of Institutions is in a positive growth mode. We have set very high goals for ourselves and we are putting our best efforts to make it a leading institution and focus on the overall development of our students so that their aspirations are met and they become suitable not only for present-day job markets, but transform themselves as global citizens.

New facilities are being added and well-experienced faculty members are joining our institution. A number of professional courses are being introduced from this academic year to train students on innovation and creativity and enhance their employability. Significant changes are being made in our organisation to provide better student support in our campus.

We are here to take feedback from all stakeholders and make up for the lacuna so that the institution meets the stakeholder's expectations. I wish all our students happy and enjoyable learning experience in our campus.

Good Wishes,
Smt. Ramadevi Venkatpathi

CEO SPEAKS

Dear Readers,

I am extremely happy to note that the editorial team of East Point Group of Institutions, have brought out the third issue of "Quarterly Newsletter-Jnanaprabha. We have been striving to achieve excellence in every college of EPGI and our ultimate goal is to provide world class education. During the last quarter, a significant number of developments have happened on our campus. We are preparing ourselves to offer a significant number of postgraduate programs in medicine from this academic year. With the addition of PG programs to our medical college, we hope to have new vigour, development and innovations in our hospital and medical college.

We have submitted our application to become a university with the Government of Karnataka and we hope, we will be a private university soon. Becoming a private university will give us enormous freedom to design, develop and offer new age programs to students. We are striving to provide relevant and quality education to our students' delegates; and quality and affordable healthcare to our patients. During the quarter we celebrated Founder's day on 18th April 2022, organised annual cultural fest "Samskruthi-2k22" during the month of May and encouraged our students to participate in various intercollegiate sports and cultural activities where they have done extremely well. My best wishes to all our students.

Compliments,
Sri. S V Pramod Gowda

CEO SPEAKS

Greetings!

The third issue of “Jnanaprabha,” the quarterly Newsletter of our Group of Institutions is in your hand. The editorial team has compiled this meticulously and presented the important events and activities that have happened on our campus during this quarter. During the last quarter, we celebrated “Founder’s Day” on 18th April 2022. On this occasion, we honoured Padma Shri awardee Dr. C. N. Manjunath, Director - Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research; Mr. H. R. Ranganath, Chairman and Managing Director- Public TV; Dr. B.V. Vasanth Kumar, Chairman - Karnataka Sahitya Academy, Mysore; Dr. P. Radhakrishnan, Director - LRDE, Bangalore and Dr. T. Rajeshwari, Former Dean and Director - Bangalore Medical College and Research Institute. On 8th April 2022, we had a Governing Council meeting.

The annual cultural fest Samskruthi was celebrated on 13th and 14th May 2022 for which there was a tremendous response from students across Bangalore. On this occasion, we had organised a concert from Celebrity Kannada singer- Vijaya Prakash and DJ from Sunburn. Our students are doing very well in sports and athletics arena too where they have won university level cricket matches, shuttle badminton and football. Recent review of our examination results have brought us lot of satisfaction, wherein most of the programs our students have done extremely well with 100% results and more than 400 job offers are there for our students from Engineering and Technology. Now, we are preparing for the next academic year and we are working towards achieving highest students’ satisfaction. My best wishes to all our students.

Good Wishes,
Sri. S V Rajiv Gowda

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR SPEAKS

Dear Readers, Life Skills

A person needs a set of social features and personal capabilities to interact with themselves and other people in and around their environment and to make the decision which requires high ability, also to find solutions to various kinds of problems. Moreover, the skills required to deal positively with any condition to get the desired outcome is called life skills. Life skills can be developed through encouragement to adapt to society and promote positivity in personal behaviours and by adopting a positive perspective towards work.

Essential life skills everyone should learn includes:

1. Self-Awareness Skills
2. Empathy and Sympathy Skills
3. Problem-Solving Skills
4. Decision-Making Skills
5. Thinking Skills (Analytical Thinking Skills, Divergent Thinking Skills, Creative Thinking Skills and Critical Thinking Skills)
6. Communication skills
7. Interpersonal Skills and
8. Accepting Criticism Skill.

If we want to live life successfully, then we need to understand the importance of life skills and it is also very important to implement it in our life. If this happens then our life can move in a simple and right direction.

ENGINEERING - HUMANITIES

The Power of Communication

Communication is a principal skill that enables human socialisation.

Interpersonal communication skill is considered as a challenge by students and professionals alike.

The barrier associated with it are:

1. Influence of mother tongue
2. Emotions
3. Competitiveness
4. Body language and gestures
5. Speaker's voice, volume, pitch and articulation
6. Semantic gap
7. Culture specific expressions

Communicating in a controlled and poised manner becomes possible when there is focused and patient listening.
